Mr. Grimard...my wife and I are relatively new residents to Morris Village and don't pretend to fully understand/appreciate the difficult choices related to the day to day operations of a city of Rockland's size. That said, we moved to Rockland as the cost of living appeared more reasonable than other communities in the Ottawa area. Given the proposed +8% increase in the budget for next year, I fear we may have made a huge mistake in relocating here. We believe there are more difficult decisions to be made as such an increase is unacceptable in either good or bad times. We encourage you and your fellow city councillors to go back to the drawing board and return with a more palatable increase. Thank you for your attention in this matter and we look forward to reviewing a revised budget.
